

Holy Saturday Divine Liturgy

Dmitri Bortniansky

(1751 - 1825)

Cherubic Hymn #5

Text Adaptation by

Michael G. Farrow

Text Source: Based on Divine Prayers and Services
Seraphim Nassar 1961

Let All Mortal Flesh

(to be sung in place of the Cherubic Hymn)

Soprano
Alto

pp A - men. Let all mor - tal flesh — keep si -

Tenor
Bass

- lent and in fear and trem - bling stand pond - er - ing

rit. no — earth - ly thoughts. p For the King of Kings and the Lord of Lords com - eth forth to the faith -

Let All Mortal Flesh
Dmitri Bortniansky

- ful com - eth forth to the faith - pp ful.

$\text{♩} = 100$ Repeat as needed. Last time mf A - men. A - men. Be - fore him go the ranks of an - gels with all the prin - ci - pal - i - ties, prin - ci - pal - i - ties and pow'rs, the man - y eyed

Let All Mortal Flesh
Dmitri Bortniansky

cher - u - bim and the six - winged ser - a - phim, cov' - ring their fa - ces and chant - ing their hymn: Al - le - lu - ia, al - le -

- lu - ia, al - le - lu - ia, f al - le - lu - ia.