This rule of prayer is designed for Orthodox believers who wish to deepen their spirituality through a discipline of prayer and study.

Because people are different, the option is given to read the scripture lessons either at morning, noon or evening devotions.

Everyone is encouraged to commemorate the Saint(s) of the day, including reading from their life or teaching.

The Prayer Discipline Manual gives the daily devotions for the week and some background material on prayer.

A Common Discipline is appended to the Prayer Book and gives the fundamentals of the Prayer Discipline.

The coordinator for the discipline is Subdeacon Adam Lowell Roberts, administrator of the Becoming Truly Human Program.

To join the St. Philip Prayer Discipline or for any questions, please contact:
