

November 13th

Our Father Among the Saints John Chrysostom, Archbishop of Constantinople

Stichera on Lord I have cried

Byzantine Mode 4

Special Melody: As one valiant

- 1) Let us praise with sweet mel - o - dies John the trum - pet of
- 2) Let us hon - or be - fit - ting - ly that bright star which doth
- 3) Let that An - gel which dwelt on earth and the man of ce - shin - ing gold; that ce - les - tial mind, that sup - port of all the Church;

nev - er set and with rays of doc - trines en - light - en - eth thē earth;
- les - tial life wor - thi - ly be hon - ored and mag - ni - fied in hymns;

the depth of wis - dom, the bound - less sea of doc - trines, the
the man of God — and the preach - er of re - pen - tance; the the rock un - bro - ken, the treas - ur - y of vir - tues, the

God - in - spired and fair - sound - ing in - stru - ment; and the wine - bowl wrought gold - en sponge which doth whol - ly wipe a - way all the mois - ture of man - y - toned swal - low sing - ing tune - ful - ly; thē ex - am - ple to

November 13th-Stichera on Lord I have cried-John Chrysostom-2

5

D E

all of gold, which doth pour a - broad might - y riv - ers of hon - ey - bleak de-spair and which doth be - dew and re-fresh hearts be-come dried faith - ful men, all the Mar - tyrs' peer, and thē e - qual of Heav - en's

6

G

-flow - ing teach - ings that have wa - tered all cre - a - tion up and with - ered by much sin - ning and trans - gres - sion;
 ho - ly An - gels, who was one with thē A - pos - tles

7

D E

with in - ex - haust - i - ble el - o - quence.
come, let us praise— John of gold - en speech.
 in way of life, — e - ven Chry - sos - tom.